

Travel for people who'd rather not Expedia it.

Same prices as Booking.com — but you arrive to upgrades, daily breakfast, hotel credits, and a human (me) on WhatsApp when something breaks. Honeymoons. Family trips. Bach weekends. Business travel. Toronto, in your inbox.

THE MATH, PLAINLY

Booking direct is literally the same price. But you get less.

Hotels pay travel advisors a commission. Booking through me costs you nothing — they don't lower your rate when you cut us out, they just keep the commission.

So you can pay full price and arrive to a basic room. Or pay full price and arrive to an upgrade, breakfast, and credits. That's it. That's the entire pitch.

— WHERE I HAVE RECEIPTS —

20 all-inclusives, personally stayed

Most agencies plan resort trips they've only read about. That's how clients end up at Sandals when they should be at Excellence Playa Mujeres.

I know which property has a real kids' club, which adults-only is genuinely quiet at 11pm, which $700/night room is actually worth $700.

WHAT WE BOOK

The trips you only take a few times in your life. Try not to screw them up.

The full millennial calendar. Honeymoons. Family weeks. Bach trips. Milestone groups. Business travel for execs who'd rather stop logging into Marriott.com.

THINGS WE ACTUALLY BELIEVE

If you can't tell what your travel agent thinks, they're not your travel agent.

Hot takes from the newsletter. No-pressure click — if any of these annoy you, we're probably not the right fit.

— ISSUE 12

"Sandals is mid. There are three all-inclusives in the Caribbean that aren't, and none of them advertise on TV."

March 2026

"Maldives in August is a scam. Half the islands are unrentable in monsoon. Your advisor should be telling you this."

— ISSUE 14 · April 2026

— ISSUE 9

"If you're flying eleven hours, you should be staying at least eight nights. Jet lag is not a souvenir."

"The honeymoon you're planning shouldn't be the same hotel every couple in your wedding posted about. Get a personality."

WHAT CLIENTS SAY

Real receipts. Real reviews.

Names with permission. Trips that actually happened.

★★★★★

"Got upgraded to an over-water bungalow at check-in without asking. The 'amenity package' showed up as $1,800 of actual money saved on the trip. We're booking everything through Preface from now on!"

★★★★★

"Saved me probably 6 hours of research on the family trip. Recommended Hyatt Ziva Cap Cana over the place I was looking at. The kids' club actually delivered — first time on a family trip I read a book!"

★★★★★

"Booked 8 weeks of business travel through Preface. Zero logging into Marriott.com. Two flight cancellations he handled while I slept. The points stayed mine. This is the future of travel for executives."

HOW IT WORKS

The whole thing, in four steps.

STEP 01

20-min intro call

Tell me where, when, who, budget. I tell you whether I'm the right fit. No pitch, no pressure.

STEP 02

Planning fee

$300–$2,500 by trip complexity. Locks dates. Refundable through first revision if it's not what you wanted.

STEP 03

Proposal & iterate

2–3 options with real numbers, real itineraries, real reasoning. We refine. You book at the same rate as Expedia.

STEP 04

You go. I stay awake.

WhatsApp me if a flight cancels, a hotel's overbooked, or you want a 11pm Tokyo restaurant rec. Human in the loop.

THE NEWSLETTER

Travel takes, every other Friday. Opinions included.

One hotel worth your money. One overrated destination you don't have to feel bad about skipping. One trip-planning tip your friends don't know. Read it in five minutes.
